

CONTINUOUS THREAT EXPOSURE MANAGEMENT

Operational & Strategic Intelligence

HOW CAN TELEFÓNICA TECH HELP?

Make strategic and operational decisions with threat intelligence tailored to each profile in your organization.

Cyber threats are becoming increasingly complex and persistent and simply reacting is no longer enough. Knowing, understanding, and profiling adversaries has become essential in order to anticipate and align your defense strategy with the real risks affecting your industry, geography, and assets.

At Telefónica Tech, we help you transform information into useful knowledge for all levels of your organization: from technical analysts to senior management.

With our Operational & Strategic Intelligence service, we provide you with a comprehensive, analytical, and actionable view of the threat landscape. We deliver intelligence developed by our team of experts to improve decision-making, strengthen proactive defense, and reinforce your organization's compliance. All this with a practical, visual approach tailored to your needs.

WHO IS THIS SERVICE FOR?

Organizations that want to make informed decisions based on contextualized and verified intelligence.

Cyber Security managers who require visibility into threats affecting their industry or geography.

Security teams that need analytical products to strengthen their defense, compliance, or awareness processes.

Customers who want to outsource intelligence production without sacrificing customization or analytical quality.

OUR VALUE PROPOSITION

Our service

Operational & Strategic Intelligence is a managed service that provides a recurring selection of newsletters, reports, and infographics on threats, vulnerabilities, actors, and campaigns through the service portal and also by email. The information is prepared by a specialized team and presented in formats designed for both executive consumption and technical profiles.

It includes daily and weekly bulletins, monthly infographics by topic (ransomware, DDoS, leaks, fraud, industry trends, hacktivism, digital activism), and technical reports on persistent threats, vulnerabilities, and actors. In addition, the service can be supplemented with customized reports on demand.

What does it allow you to do?

- View threat trends tailored to your industry.
- Anticipate emerging threats through continuous monitoring of global incidents.
- Access actionable reports prepared by expert analysts.
- Make informed decisions on how to strengthen your defensive strategy and justify security investments, based on industry trends, impact analysis, and practical recommendations.
- Request customized reports on specific topics of interest to your organization.
